

Construction Unity Board (CUB)

The Washtenaw County Labor-Management Construction Unity Board (CUB), now 27 years old, is the longest continuing running labor-management program in the country. CUB was the first in Michigan, and one of the first in the country to have an industry-wide affirmative action program, a Memorandum of Understanding on construction projects, substance abuse prevention, and increased safety programs. CUB is committed to education and safety, no work stoppages, no organized coffee breaks, innovations for greater productivity, and highest quality work. The Memorandum of Understanding covers 45 projects now underway in Washtenaw County.
